For the prevention and cure of
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

THERE came to the stables of the subscriber, on Monday the 1st inst. a person calling himself and obtained a horse and gig on hire, as he said, to go to Ellicott's Mills, and return in the afternoon of the same day; and as he has not yet returned, there is strong reason to believe that his intention is to swindle me out of my property. He is about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, apparently about 25 or 30 years of age, of genteel appearance, and well calculated to deceive.

Mr. PEYTON,

The horse is a grey, about 15 hands high, 9 or 10 years old, has a switch tail, a speck on the right eye, and moves swiftly. The gig has a green body, carriage and wheels black, the lining of blue cloth, red stuff top, linings, plated double—outside joints.

I will give the above reward for the recovery of the horse and gig, and the detection of the scoundrel, or 20 dollars for the horse and gig only, and all reasonable expenses if delivered to me, No. 26, North Liberty street, Baltimore.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE
AND DAILY ADVERTISER.

PUBLISHED BY
SAMUEL SNOWDEN,
ROYAL-STREET.

Daily Gazette, 7 dolls...Country, 5 dolls.

SATURDAY, JULY 25, 1818.

FOR THE GAZETTE.

How sweet is the dear, the fond expectation
That lives in the heart that ardently loves!
The pleasures, the joys of fancy's creation,
That 'mid scenes of elysium tenderly roves.

How bright is the sunshine that glowing affection
Expansively beams with a radiance of joy!
The dear soft delight, the mutual election
Of soul bound to soul unmix'd with alloy!

But oh! when love's feelings, in dark desolation
Are crush'd by neglect to death and despair:
When the heart's proud nobility, in mental prostration
Sinks, the victim of anguish, of sorrow and care:

O then do we feel how poor and contracted
Is the nature of man, his views and his ends!
How brief are his joys! his woes how protracted!
His life the dark portion that misery lends!

SIDNEY.

Perhaps there never was a greater dearth of Intelligence either foreign or domestic than at the present moment. There appears to be throughout the greater portion of the globe a profound political calm, and there are strong indications of its permanency, as the European powers are apparently disposed to be on peaceable terms with the whole world. They seem to have acquired knowledge from past experience, and comprehensive views of that system of policy which immediately conduces to their several interests.

Of the late Dispatches received from Geo. Jackson by the American Executive, nothing has transpired; and of the Proceedings of the Heads of Departments, who immediately convened on their reception, we shall be kept in darkness until the proper time shall have arrived for divulging them.

They no doubt relate to matters of considerable magnitude, as the Ministers from Great-Britain, Holland, France, and Spain, were in Washington at the time.

[Balt. Fed. Rep.

Police Office, New-York, July 18, 1818.

CAUTION.

LEWIS FRANCIS, alias MANUEL ANTONI, a pick-pocket, about 30 years of age, five feet five inches and a half high, square shoulders, well made, sallow complexion, dark eyes, very black hair and whiskers, forehead somewhat higher than common, dresses well, but on observation will be seen that he is a low unpolished fellow, born in Portugal, speaks English tolerably well—was brought up 12th June last, charged with having stolen a pocket book in an auction room in this city, and on this day at 5 o'clock, P. M. discharged for want of sufficient testimony to convict him for that offence, is an old offender, and most expert pick-pocket: was discharged under bonds of three thousand five hundred dollars to leave the state forthwith, and not return within three years; was conducted out of the state by officers of the police, and immediately took the road for Philadelphia, having with him twelve hundred dollars good money. If Antoni has made a set on any particular object of plunder, he will endeavour to return to this city by night, to compensate himself for lost time, and the pocket book he was under the necessity of dropping on the floor of the auction room. The citizens are cautioned to beware of him, and in the event of his return, whoever shall see him, is requested to apprehend him or give immediate information at this office, first taking measures that he shall not escape.

A general publication of this notice throughout the cities of the United States will, in all probability, compel this very dangerous fellow to abandon the country altogether. Had on when sent out of this state, a fine new blue cloth coat, white pantaloons, and white vest; had also a black cloth coat, black silk pantaloons, and black silk vest, both the latter new.

The following toast was given at a celebration on the 4th inst. at Dedham, Mass.

Internal Improvement.—A speedy union of every Bachelor and Old Maid—the greatest of all internal improvements.

The testimony given to the martial abilities of Henry IV. by the Duke of Parma, one of the greatest generals of his age, was very characteristic of the keenness of his views, and the velocity of his movements. "Other generals," said the "duke, carry on war like lions and tigers; but Henry carries it on like an eagle."

ALEXANDRIA:
SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 25, 1818.

IV. CANTO OF CHILDE HAROLD.

For that distemper of the soul, which after hurrying its victims through a course of crime, rarely or never fails to precipitate them into the gulf of ruin, and, whatever they in their fond yearnings may hope to the contrary, into infamy also*—we mean ambition—the history of every part of the world presents what ought to be remedies, in prodigious abundance, and no part of it a greater number of powerful ones than that of Rome. This feature of the Roman annals has not been lost upon Lord Byron; who has selected from the multitude of aggressors upon the tranquillity of mankind, some of the most prominent, and presented their portraits to his readers in full and bold relief; heroes, demigods, the comets of vulgar eyes, who drew the gaze of the world upon their names and actions, but "whose dust was scattered long ago, and whose tombs now contain no ashes.'

"Oh thou, whose chariot roll'd on fortune's wheel,
Triumphant Sylla! Thou who didst subdue
Thy country's foes ere thou wouldst pause to feel
The wrath of thy own wrongs, or reap the due
Of hoarded vengeance till thine eagles flew
O'er prostrate Asia;—thou, who with thy frown
Annihilated senates—Roman, too,
With all thy vices, for thou didst lay down
With an atoning smile a more than earthly crown.

The dictatorial wreath—couldst thou divine
To what would one day dwindle that which made
Thee more than mortal? and that so supine
By aught than Roman Rome should thus be laid?
She who was nam'd eternal, and array'd
Her warriors but to conquer—she who veil'd
Earth with her haughty shadow, and display'd
Until the o'er-canopied horizon fail'd
Her rushing wings—Oh! she who was almighty hail'd!

"Sylla was first of victors; but our own
The sagest of usurpers, CROMWELL: he
Too swept off senates while he hew'd the throne
Down to a block—immortal rebel! see
What crimes it costs to be a moment free
And famous through all ages! but beneath
His fate the moral lurks of destiny;
His day of double victory and death
Beheld him with two realms, and, happier, yield his breath.

"The third of the same moon whose former course
Had all but crown'd him, on the selfsame day
Deposed him gently from his throne of force,
And laid him with the earth's preceding clay.
And show'd not fortune thus how fame and sway,
And all we deem delightful, and consume
Our souls to compass through each arduous way,
Are in her eyes less happy than the tomb?
Were they but so in man's, how different were his doom!

"And thou dread statue! yet existent in
The austere form of naked majesty,
Thou who beheldst, 'mid the assassin's din,
At thy bath'd base the bloody Cæsar lie,
Folding his robe in dying dignity,
An offering to thine altar from the queen
Of gods and men, great Nemesis! did he die,
And thou too perish, Pompey? have ye been
Victors of countless kings, or puppets of a scene?

And thou, the thunder-stricken nurse of Rome!
She-wolf! whose brazen-imaged dugs impart
The milk of conquests yet within the dome
Where, as a monument of antique art,
Thou standest—mother of the mighty heart
Which the great founder suck'd from thy wild teat,
Scorch'd by the Roman Jove's ethereal dart,
And thy limbs black with lightning, dost thou yet
Guard thine immortal cubs, nor thy fond charge forget?

Thou dost; but all thy foster babes are dead—
The men of iron; and the world hath reap'd
Cities from out their sepulchres: men bled
In imitation of the things they fear'd,
And fought and conquer'd, and the same course steer'd
At apish distance; but as yet none have,
Nor could, the same supremacy have near'd,
Save one vain man,† who is not in the grave
But, vanquish'd by himself, to his own slaves a slave—

"The fool of false dominion—and a kind
Of bastard Cæsar, following him of old
With steps unequal; for the Roman's mind
Was modell'd in a less terrestrial mould,
With passions fiercer, yet a judgment cold,
And an immortal instinct which redeem'd
The frailties of a heart so soft, yet bold.
Alcides with the distaff now be seem'd
At Cleopatra's feet—and now himself he beam'd

"And came—and saw—and conquered! but the man
Who would have tamed his eagles down to flee
Like a train'd falcon in the Gallic van

* "See Cromwell damned to everlasting fame." POPE.

† It may be superfluous to say that the poet means Napoleon.

Which he, in spoth, long led to victory,
With deaf heart which never seem'd to be
A listener to itself, was strangely fram'd;
With but one weakest weakness—vanity,
Coquettish in ambition—still he aim'd—
At what? Can he avouch—or answer what he claim'd?

"And would be all or nothing—nor could wait
For the sure grave to level him; few years
Had fix'd him with the Cæsars in his fate,
On whom we tread: For this the conqueror rears
The arch of triumph! and for this the tears
And blood of earth flow on as they have flow'd,
An universal deluge which appears
Without an ark for wretched man's abode,
And ebbs but to reflow!—RENEW THY RAINBOW GOD.

"What from this barren being do we reap?
Our senses narrow, and our reason frail,
Life short, and truth a gem which loves the deep,
And all things weigh'd in custom's falsest scale;
Opinion an omnipotence, whose veil
Mantles the earth with darkness, until right
And wrong are accidents, and men grow pale
Lest their own judgments should become too bright,
And their free thoughts be crimes, and earth have too much light.

"And thus they plod in sluggish misery,
Rotting from sire to son, and age to age,
Proud of their trampled nature, and so die,
Bequeathing their hereditary rage
To the new race of unborn slaves, who wage
War for their chains, and rather than be free
Bleed gladiator-like, and still engage
Within the same arena where they see
Their fellows fall before, like leaves of the same tree.

"I speak not of men's creeds—they rest between
Man and his maker—but of things allow'd,
Averr'd and known—and daily, hourly seen—
The yoke that is upon us doubly bow'd,
And the intent of tyranny avow'd,
The edit of earth's rulers, who are grown
The apes of him who humbled once the proud,
And shook them from their slumbers on the throne;
Too glorious, were this all his mighty arm had done.

New-York, July 20.

Extract of a letter from Havre, June 1. Since the 24th ult. the market has undergone little or no change. Cottons continue dull at 55 a 56 sous for upland; 55 a 57 for N. Orleans, and 4f 50 to 70 for Sea Island. We do not, however, expect any decline on the present quotations, and hope that the demand will soon revive. Rice, very heavy, and a dangerous article. The last sale was at 38 f; contracts have since been made in Paris at 36½ deliverable in July and August, and at 35 for the year. Flour nominal. Coffee is in important demand—30½ in bond have been offered to day for a parcel of 40,000 lbs; Havana bought unseen on Saturday at 30; but the proprietors hold it, and we understand there are orders in town to purchase at 31."

LATE FROM FRANCE.

By the arrival yesterday of the ship America, captain Heath, from Havre-de-Grace, we received a regular file of French papers to the 1st of June, the Journal de Rouen, and the Journal du Commerce.

Paris—Of the persons who were condemned to death for the murder of Fualdes, Ann Benoit is the only one who has appealed to the court of cessation; other arrests continue to take place of persons concerned in this foul murder.

The Diana frigate was to sail from St. Sebastian, via Cadiz, with muskets and other arms for South America.

Poland—The Vice Roy of Poland, gen. Zeavoureck, has been created a prince.

The Grand Duke Constantine, was on his return from the frontiers, where he had accompanied the Emperor of Russia. It is expected he will be present at the congress of Sovereigns to be held the last of August.

The Emperor Alexander by a decree, has extended the facilities of communication by water, in every part of his empire, and has laid additional duties on various articles of commerce to cover the expenses.

Madrid, May 4—We are far from believing that our diplomatic discussion with the United States can lead to a rupture; it is posible that this business will be terminated by a voluntary cession of the Floridas on our part, and a pecuniary indemnity on the part of the United States. Many persons who call themselves well instructed, assert that a negociation is already opened on this subject.

Augsberg, May 21—Letters from Milan announce that the Arch Duke Vice Roy Regnier, is actually established with his suite at the castle of Monza, and will in a few days make his brilliant entry into Milan.

The Austrian court has terminated its loan with many of its principal bankers of Europe. It is for 30 millions of Florins.

Brussels, May 21—The Grand Duke Michael, brother of the Emperor of Russia, has attended some days at the head quarters of the Russian army in France, established at the Maubeuge—he is soon to embark at Calais for England.

The Field Marshal Prince Blucher, arrived at Breslaw 11th May.

Hamburg—Letters from Algiers of the 9th of April, state that the reign of Hassein, the actual Dey, will probably be much more tranquil than that of his predecessor. The plague continued to extend its ravages to Oran and Mascara, two important places.

Paris—The editors of the French Archieves opened a subscription for an erection of a statue of the Prince of Conde.

Copy of a letter received in Baltimore, dated Lisbon, June 6.

"We had the pleasure of addressing you last on the 8th ult. since when, as we expected, some improvement in prices of wheat took place, but considerable supplies, particularly from the Mediterranean, having successively dropped in, our market has felt the effects of it, and at this moment the extreme timidity of purchasers, renders prices entirely nominal. The appearance of the harvest throughout Spain is most promising. The stock in the Mediterranean according to all accounts is immense; and the general aspect is so discouraging, that we cannot flatter ourselves with hopes of improvement. Our stock of wheat may now be calculated at 20,000 moys; of barley, rye, flour and Indian corn, it is very small, and the latter article has met with an usual brisk demand at from 560 to 740rs. according to quality.—Direct supplies, however, having reached our northern ports, the demand has subsided, and but few sales can now be effected at the above prices—Wheat we quote from 650 to 800rs. At the last price the very best hard wheat has been sold on board, and could not now be commanded.

The cargo of flour alluded to in our last, was sold at 970rs on board, and more now remaining in first hands—Good barley would fetch 320, 330rs on board; fine hard Sicilian has been sold at 425rs—Rye would command 480 to 500rs on board.

Of Carolina rice we remain destitute; Brazil maintains its price, and East India has been sold at 5500rs.

POWER OF CONSCIOUS GUILT.

The following article was communicated by a respectable gentleman of this city, to whom the circumstances were detailed a few days since by the magistrate in whose presence the horrid crime was committed.

Three justices of the peace had met at May's-Lick, in Mason County, Kentucky, for the purpose of taking depositions, and to try about 40 civil causes which were set for trial at that time and place. On a short consultation, it was agreed that two of the Magistrates, viz. Joseph Desha and John Young should retire to one corner of a large room, in which they had met, and attend to taking the depositions, whilst Jonathan Stout, the other magistrate, should try the causes. A cause came on to be heard, wherein the sum in dispute was seventy-five cents—neither party having any testimony to introduce, Mr. Stout, for the purpose of obtaining some knowledge of the situation of the claim, permitted the parties to go into a free conversation on the subject of their dealings. In the course of the conversation, it appeared that at a day not long previous to the day of trial, the defendant had called on the plantiff to settle with him relative to the expence of taking up an estray—and now in the presence of Mr. Stout, the defendant was asked by the plantiff, if he did not recollect falling short the sum of fifty cents to pay the expence of taking up the estray at the time alluded to, when he called to settle it—the defendant said, he did—upon which the following dialogue ensued:—

Plaintiff—Had you any more money with you that day, than you gave me, towards paying the expence of taking up the estray?

Defendant—No.

Plaintiff—Did you borrow any money of any one that day?

Defendant—No I did not.

Plaintiff—After you left my house that day, did you meet certain young men, (naming them) on your way home?

Defendant—I did.

Plaintiff—Did you return with them to my house?

Defendant—I did.

Plaintiff—Did you afterwards pitch quoits with them for whiskey, in my yard?

Defendant—I did.

Plaintiff—Did you lose two half pints of whiskey?

Defendant—I did.

Plaintiff—Were they called in by you at my bar? (the Plaintiff was a Tavern keeper)

Defendant—They were.

Plaintiff—Did you pay me for them?

Defendant—I did.

After considerable affirmation on one side, and denial on the other, the plaintiff told the defendant, if he would swear he had paid for two half pints, he would strike them out of his account—Defendant said he would, and asked Mr. Stout to administer the oath, but he being conscious from the prior confessions of the defendant, that it was impossible it could be so—said to him, I feel a delicacy in doing it, and you had better pay it—it's a trifling sum, I would not take the trouble to swear for it. Something at that moment called the attention of Mr. Stout from the subject, and before he again had fixed his eyes on the defendant, he had stepped to Mr. Young, one of the Magistrates in the other corner of the room, and had sworn in the most solemn manner to the payment of the money, of which he immediately informed Mr Stout.

Until this awful period, the defendant had retained his usual appearance of health and vigor—but alas! no sooner had he turned about to inform Mr. Stout of his successful attempt to commit the horrid crime of perjury, than a death-like paleness was visible in his countenance, the people in the room simultaneously remarked, with astonishment, the change so instantaneously effected in his appearance. Mr. Stout himself remarked, when relating the circumstances to the writer, that he had the appearance of a man already two days dead. Judgment was entered for fifty cents, and he retired from the scene of guilt. But wretched, infatuated mortal, he could not retire from conscious guilt. He took no refreshment nor sleep that night; but appeared restless, (as his unfortunate wife relates) and rolled in bed from side to side like one bereft of every earthly enjoyment. Morning came—but with it brought no relief to his perturbed bosom. Still taking no food, he went after breakfast to the field where a number of reapers had met to cut his grain; he gave them some incoherent directions relative to the harvest, & returned to his house. The whole day was spent in thoughtful musing, and apparent agony of mind—and another night was spent like the preceding. In the morning, a short time after he had left his bed, he was seen running upon all fours through the door yard, and exclaiming "John Johnston, (the name of the constable who attended the trial) and the Devil are after me." He was picked up by some men who were about the house and set down on the steps of the door. In a few minutes he suddenly started from his seat, and again commenced running upon his hands and feet as before; and exclaiming most awfully, "John Johnston and the Devil are after me." In this manner he made his way into a small field of corn which stood open to the door yard, and as he ran between the rows of corn he tore up a number of hills by the roots—and whilst thus engaged, and before he could be reached by his pursuers, in the act of tearing up a corn hill, he suddenly and instantly expired.

Reader! beware. Avoid dissimulation; but admit not a thought of perjury to meet a second's entertainment in your bosom.—In a rash, and inconsiderate moment, this man cast himself away, leaving an indelible stain upon all his connections, and carrying with him to the grave, an odium which an ocean of tears can never wash from his name.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, on the the 3d inst. Negro JEM, about 5 feet 5 inches high, 25 or 26 years of age, stout and well made, except that he is perhaps a little knockkneed; his complexion dark, has a large scar on the upper lip, occasioned, it is said, by his falling, when a child, on some edged tool; has a down look when spoken to, and is apt to be short and insolent in answering. The clothes he took with him are not recollected, except a red flannel shirt, a pair of Russia duck sailor's trowsers, and a coarse wool hat with broad brim, nearly half worn. Having gone off without any provocation, it is probable his intention is to steer his course towards Baltimore or Pennsylvania, and pass for a free man. He has hauled the seine the two last seasons in Pomonkey, where he may have gone, or perhaps to Alexandria, where he is also a little acquainted. If taken 20 miles from home, or out of the county, I will give 20 dollars for securing him in any gaol, or if taken 50 miles from home, or out of the state, I will give the above reward of fifty dollars. Valuable Land for Sale.

I WILL sell the farm on which I reside, known by the name of Indian Town, and containing about one thousand acres. It is situated in Charles Co. Md. on Nanjemoy Creek near its mouth, about seven miles from Port Tobacco, and forty from Washington City. Few farms combine greater advantages than this; added to a fertility of soil equal to any in the country, it binds on the creek nearly two miles, which affords great facility in getting its productions to market, and precludes the necessity of much fencing; the creek affords in their seasons, fish and wild fowl in abundance.—The soil is peculiarly adapted to the growth of Tobacco, Wheat and Indian Corn, and the plaister has been found from experience to act on it admirably. There are now about 100 acres in clover, some of which is well set. The improvements are a new two story dwelling house 16 by 40 feet, kitchen, barn, stables, carriage house, with every other necessary out house, the whole in good repair. There is also a wind-mill in good order, the toll of which affords meal enough for the support of the farm.—Also, one other tract containing 115 acres in the forest, about three miles distant, entirely in the wood. There is a well of excellent water in the yard, and several springs on different parts of the farm. The premises may be viewed, and the terms known by application to the subscriber. Should the above farm be unsold on the 1st of Sept. next, I will lease it for a term of years.

600 acres of Land for sale.

THIS Tract is situated in Westmoreland county, Virginia, adjacent to Mr. Garnett Hunter's Plantation, and contiguous to the waters of the Potomac. The neighborhood is good—water excellent, and very desirable situations for building. A considerable proportion of the land is well timbered, besides a good deal of cedar, pine and other wood, sufficiently convenient to make it an object for those who may be disposed to send it to market—it is nearly equi-distant from Baltimore, Washington and Norfolk.

Any one wishing to purchase may apply to ROGER JONES,

Also, a very valuable LOT, containing 140 acres, being a part of the late Mr. John Turberville's tract—within 6 miles of Georgetown, 3 from the Little Falls Bridge, and near to the turnpike leading from thence to Wiley's, in Fairfax county, Va. A great proportion of this land is exceedingly well timbered, and that part which is not, is so recently cleared as to be in an active state for cultivation, and already in a productive condition.—For terms, apply to PHILIP C. JONES, esq. in Leesburg, Va. or to R. JONES.

To the friends of Humanity.

AN aged, infirm, and widowed mother, is desirous to receive information of THOMAS BURTON CARTER, an only son, concerning whom she has not heard any thing, on which reliance can be placed, for nearly three years. He removed from this place to the state of Ohio about five years ago. The last certain account she had from him, was from Cadiz in that state. He is about twenty five years of age; by trade a tailor. Vague rumour has recently pronounced him dead. A letter communicating information relative to him, directed to Henry Tutwieler, P. M. at this place, would confer a peculiar kindness on an afflicted woman.

Dr. Thomson's System of Chemistry.

IN FOUR VOLUMES OCTAVO.

THE preceding edition of Dr. Thomson's Chemistry, had acquired so much reputation both in England and upon the continent of Europe, that a new edition, comprising the new facts with which the science had been enriched, and the new views of the subject which extended knowledge had suggested as indispensable, was eagerly looked for by the scientific world. A new edition has accordingly appeared, wherein the former edition of five volumes has been condensed into four.

All the new discoveries, and all the new theories of Chemical Phænomena, have been considered and embraced in the present improved edition: so that it is indispensable to the chemical student, as presenting the only condensed view of the changes and alterations in chemical doctrine, which the discoveries of the last ten years have suggested. No apology therefore can be necessary for reprinting such a book in this country; for the press does not furnish a substitute for it. But, there is so much theoretical suggestion—so much abstruse calculation—so much fact of dubious authority—and so much dubious validity—that notes and illustrations are absolutely necessary, not merely to render the book more useful, but more intelligible.

Under these impressions, I thought fit to write notes in illustration (and sometimes in contradiction) of the work itself, rather than to make any abridgement of it. Those who wish to know the modern views of chemical science, must peruse it; and to very many who will be anxious to study it, elucidation will be necessary. I have endeavoured to supply these, to the best of my ability; regardless whether my own opinions are in dissonance or coincidence with those of my author; leaving to the reader to decide between us.

The work will be published, with notes and illustrations, in four volumes 8vo.

THOMAS COOPER, M. D.

CONDITIONS.

I. The work will be printed on a superfine paper, with a new small pica letter; and will be published early in the ensuing summer.

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE's MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance; they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
